Information regarding travel and accommodation

Re Travel – there are some morning flights so I think you may be able to make it down on the morning of the conference itself, but this may depend on whether you want to come earlier.

It is a quick train ride from the Domestic Airport terminal to the city - if you are staying in the city. Follow directions to train (train is cheaper if one person or two people ($15-17 each one way depending on concession - also see below for information about the OPAL card for seniors if that is applicable, though it may just be easier to buy one-way tickets at the airport Domestic Train Station). A taxi could be $45-60.

If going by train and staying in the city, it is likely that you will need to alight at either St James or Town Hall depending on the direction the 'City Circle' train, and where your accommodation is located.

Accommodation.

The venue, Wesley Church, Wesley Mission is at 220 Pitt Street, and the closest train station is Town Hall, though also accessible from St James Station on the other side. There are many hotels around. It would be more convenient to stay in the city as then you do not have extra travel (and also the cost of that travel). It may partly depend on your budget and local arrangements. City costs can vary considerably. For example, the Hilton is opposite Wesley Mission and sometimes you can find discounted prices on one of the accommodation websites.

For information, some possible hotels that are within walking distance are noted below (though ACC would highlight the normal disclaimer about not providing any particular endorsement). It is difficult to include prices as they vary week to week. Their websites are below, but the best way to look and compare is via the general hotel booking sites and many others will come up to.
